

Privacy Policy

Effective Date: June 12, 2020

Wargo & French LLP (“Wargo French”, “we”, “our” or “us”) provides this Privacy Policy to explain our practices regarding the collection, use and disclosure of personal information of users of our website (“Site”). Your use of our Site constitutes your agreement to this Privacy Policy.

Information Collection and Use

We do not collect, use or disclose your personal information through our Site. While we encourage those interested to reach out to us through the email or phone contacts found on our Site, you are not able to provide us with your personal information through our Site. We also do not utilize any third-party services that collect your personal information. Our Site is meant to educate you about the work we do and invite you to reach out to us to learn more.

Cookies

Cookies are small files of data that are commonly used as an anonymous unique identifier. These are sent to your browser from the website that you visit and are stored on your computer's hard drive. We do not use cookies or any similar technologies to collect information about your interaction with our Site.

Do Not Track Browser Settings

Please note that our Site does not support “Do Not Track” browser settings and does not currently participate in any “Do Not Track” framework that would allow us to respond to signals or other mechanisms from you regarding the collection of your personal or non-personally identifiable information.

Links to Other Sites

Our Site may contain links to websites that are not owned or operated by Wargo French. Those websites are operated by third parties. The information practices of those websites linked to our Site are not covered by this Privacy Policy. Links to those websites do not imply our endorsement for such websites or the content found on such websites. We have no control over, and assume no responsibility for, the content, privacy policies or practices of websites to which our Site links. If you provide any information to third parties, different rules regarding the collection and use of your personal information will apply. We suggest you review the third parties’ privacy policies before providing any information to them.

Changes to Privacy Policy

The effective date of this Privacy Policy is noted at the top of this page. We reserve the right to update or change this Privacy Policy at any time and users should check this Privacy Policy periodically for changes.

Your continued use of our Site after we post on this page any modifications to this Privacy Policy will constitute your acknowledgment of the modifications and your consent to abide and be bound by the modified Privacy Policy.
